What's Your Story?

Youth Exchange

Dates: 8-16 December 2019 (including travel days)

Location: Athens, Greece

Summary of the Project

Over the past years we can see more and more incidents of extreme violence, which most of the times lead to the shook of the existing democracy and united European spirit, along with every kind of value and ethics. Realizing that, we can see that it is of great importance to promote peace and social dialogue, starting from the younger generations and building up from that!

“What’s Your Story?” is a Youth Exchange designed to tackle issues such as xenophobia, violent radicalization, extremism and racism through the usage of story-telling, as a mean of prevention and confrontation. By bringing together 42 young people from 8 different countries (Greece, Spain, Poland, Lebanon, Tunisia, Romania, Serbia and Italy) we hope to create the ideal multicultural environment for such a tool to thrive and create beneficial outcomes!

Objectives of the Project

- ❖ Clarification of terms such as radicalization, extremism, racism, etc.
- ❖ Review and discovery of the societies that we live in and ourselves as individuals
- ❖ Understanding and promotion of values such as empathy, acceptance, etc.
- ❖ Promotion of storytelling as a tool against violent radicalization, extremism, xenophobia and racism
- ❖ Promotion of peace, social coherence, understanding and solidarity through storytelling

What to see in Athens?

Athens the capital of Greece is a city with many points of interest; rich history, tasty food, good shopping points and even amazing cultural activities. Here is a list with only some of the many things you can do and see in the city of Athens.

➤ Acropolis & the Parthenon

These ancient buildings are the defining landmarks of Athens. Sat at the top of a rocky outcrop for 2,500 years, a sprawling modern metropolis has grown around them. The monuments here are considered the greatest architectural feats created in Greek antiquity. The Parthenon temple, dedicated to the goddess Athena, is perfect in its proportions and is one of the world's finest Doric masterpieces. Don't forget to also visit the amazing, new-age Acropolis Museum for a more holistic approach.

➤ Monastiraki Square and Flea Market

Monastiraki is one of the oldest and busiest areas of the capital featuring rooftop bars, ancient sights and endless market shopping. The Monastiraki metro station is situated right off the picturesque main square (you can also catch a glimpse of stunning views of the Acropolis from here). Go shopping at the Monastiraki flea market, a series of tightly lined pedestrian lanes for the quintessential 'I Love Greece' tourist trinkets or pop into shops filled with antiques, handmade jewelry and Greek handicrafts.

➤The National Gardens

Located in the heart of Athens, the National Gardens are a beautiful retreat from the hustle and bustle of the concrete metropolis that surrounds it. Queen Amalia, the first queen of Greece, commissioned the creation of a national garden and by 1840 it was completed. The park covers 16 hectares of narrow gravel paths and ponds, as well as a small zoo with wild Greek goats, peacocks, ducks & chickens and even parrots.

➤ The National Museum of Contemporary Art

Reopened in 2016, the EMST is Athens' answer to the Tate Modern (London), Centre Pompidou (Paris) and Museum of Modern Art (New York). This space is filled with art that gets people talking. Expect exhibitions of Greek and international art in all media, from painting to video to experimental architecture. Plus the museum's vast home has its own story: it's actually a former brewery – Greek beer Fix was once made here.

➤ Stavros Niarchos Foundation Cultural Center (SNFCC)

An oasis of Mediterranean greenery. For 170,000 square-meters of parkland, complete with playgrounds, gardens, cafés, a massive glass eco-minded complex (home of the Greek National Opera), a manmade river, and a new National Library of Greece. Plus there's a great view of the Acropolis.

Weather Conditions & Contacts

Weather Conditions

Bring warm clothes with you, as the temperature in Greece during December can vary between 5-15°C or even lower than that! Don't forget to also pack an umbrella as there can be quite a few rainy days.
